THE IRRIGATION CONTROVERSY.

The readers of the JOURNAL are aware that there has been for several months past bitter controversy between Senator Stewart and Major Powell, relative to irrigation matters, but the facts connected therewith have not been stated in the dispatches so as to be fully comprehended by the people of the West. It has been felt, however, in Nevada that there must have been some powerful reason to inspire the energetic fight made by Mr. Stewart, and yet the new channels through which a clear statement should come have not effectually served that purpose. The most lucid statement of the facts that has been published and which we herewith copy, is from the S. F. Alta:

Mr. Stewart and other Western Senators secured an appropriation for an examination and survey of the watersheds and reservoir sites of the arid region. This appropriation was made in the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill which was passed October 2, 1888. While that bill was in the hands of a Congressional Committee a provision was inserted withdrawing from market and reserving all reservoir sites and all lands that could be irrigated by the construction of reservoirs. Senator Dolph, of Oregon, says that it is believed that this extraordinary provision was drafted by Major Powell and inserted at his instance. Senator Dolph says that neither the Land Commissioner nor the Secretary of the Interior was consulted about this extraordinary legislation in an appropriation bill, nor did the Public Lands Committees of the House and Senate know of it. Dolph, himself a member of the Senate Land Committee and Chairman of the sub-committee on changes in the land laws, did not know of this change and its scope within three months.

As construed by the Attorney General and Secretary of the Interior, and no doubt correctly, this legislation will withdraw from entry all land in the arid region. The lands which are arable without irrigation cannot be segregated from the arid lands without the survey contemplated by the law, therefore all the land laws are suspended. The region covered by this covert legislation as marked out by Major Powell himself is bounded on the north by the Dominion of Canada, on the south by Mexico, on the east by a line drawn through the middle of North and South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Texas, on the west by the Cascade mountains, through Washington and Oregon, the Sierra Nevada in Upper California to the latitude of Santa Cruz, and thence south to the Pacific Ocean. It will be seen that Major Powell, by a few lines in an appropriation bill, as to which he consulted no member of the Cabinet, no one in the General Land Office, and probably no member of the land committee, suspended the operation of all the land laws in the country over an area equal to two-fifths of the domain of the United States!

The effects of this law as described by Senator Dolph, are to suspend action upon all pre-emption, homestead and other land claims upon which patent has not already issued; to invalidate all settlers under the land laws of claims made since October 2, 1888, and to make any person who goes upon the public lands to pre-empt, take up a soldier's or a civilian's homestead, or for any purpose permitted by the land laws, a trespasser.

Powell estimates that his irrigation survey will cost $5,000,000 and take twenty years to complete, so that the land laws will stand suspended until 1910, unless Congress interferes. Texas supports Senator Reagan in his fight for Powell, because that State owns all the land within its borders, and this law does not affect it. By the Act of annexation Texas received her lands and the United States has no domain there. With all of our public domain withdrawn from settlement, of course land seekers must resort to Texas for homes, and the policy which arrests Western development right where it is will remarkably accelerate the growth of the Southwest. There is no use stopping to quarrel with Texas for taking care of herself. Wisdom dictates that we be equally watchful to our own rights and equally helpful to our Senators who do their duty in guarding them.

The importance of this legislation to the people of the West fully accounts for Senator Stewart's stubborn fight in the matter. As the law stands no man can acquire title to an acre of land within the vast area which it covers. The effect will be to check immigration and the large land owners in the West will control the only land for sale and of course the monopoly will be used for their own benefit, and unless the Powell law is repealed boy babies now in their cradles will be voters before any citizen can get a home on that part of the public domain embraced in that statute.

The Alta thinks that the subject is one for Western action in support of our members of Congress. The commercial bodies in Pacific Coast seaports should specially interest themselves in the matter and send to Senator Stewart such protests as will help his fight.

Dormitory Accommodations.

Applications are coming in nearly every day for dormitory accommodations at the State University for the ensuing term. As only eighteen above bed-rooms are fitted up at present, if the applications continue in the same proportion until the commencement of the term, it will be necessary to furnish additional sleeping accommodations for the students. The kitchen and dining-room capacities are, however, ample for the feeding of twice the number of applicants up to the present time.

The Elko Independent favors the election of Mrs. Josephine Taylor for Superintendent of Schools in that county and recommends that she be nominated by both conventions. Elko is, we believe, the only county in the State that elects a Superintendent of Schools, a special law re-establishing that office there, being passed by the last Legislature.

John L. Sullivan and Peter Jackson have been offered a $30,000 purse—$25,000 to the winner—for a finish fight at the Carnival Palace at Ogden, Utah.

THE NEW CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. The legislative authority of this State shall be vested in a Senate and Assembly, which shall be designated "The Legislature of the State of Nevada," and the sessions of such Legislature shall be held at the seat of Government of the State.

Sec. 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall be biennial, and shall commence on the third Monday of January next ensuing the election of members of the Assembly, unless the Governor of the State shall, in the interim, convene the Legislature by proclamation.

Sec. 3. The members of the Assembly shall be chosen biennially by the qualified electors of their respective districts, on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, and their term of office shall be two years from the day next after their election.

Sec. 4. Senators shall be chosen at the same time and places as members of the Assembly, by the qualified electors of their respective districts, and their term of office shall be four years from the day next after their election.

Sec. 5. Senators and members of the Assembly shall be duly qualified electors in the respective counties and districts which they represent, and the number of Senators shall not be less than one-third nor more than two-thirds of that of members of the Assembly.

Sec. 6. Each House shall judge of the qualifications, elections and returns of its own members, choose its own officers, determine the rules of its proceedings, and may punish its members for disorderly conduct, and with the concurrence of two-thirds of all the members elected, expel a member.

Sec. 7. Either House, during the session, may punish, by imprisonment, any person not a member who shall have been guilty of disrespect to the House by disorderly or contemptuous behavior in its presence; but such imprisonment shall not extend beyond the final adjournment of the session.

Sec. 8. No Senator or member of the Assembly shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, nor for one year thereafter, be appointed to any civil office of profit under the State which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which, shall have been increased during such term, except such offices as may be filled by elections by the people.

Sec. 9. No person holding any lucrative office under the Government of the United States, or any other power, shall be eligible to any civil office of profit under this State; provided, that Postmasters, whose compensation does not exceed five hundred dollars per annum, or Commissioners of Deeds, shall not be deemed as holding a lucrative office.

Sec. 10. Any person who shall be convicted of the embezzlement or defalcation of the public funds of this State, or who may be convicted of having given or offered a bribe to secure his election or appointment to office, or received a bribe to aid in the procurement of office for any other person, shall be disqualified from holding any office of profit or trust in this State; and the Legislature shall provide by law for punishment of such defalcation, bribery or embezzlement, as a felony.

Sec. 11. Members of the Legislature shall be privileged from arrest on civil process during the session of the Legislature, and for fifteen days next before the commencement of each session.

Sec. 12. When vacancies occur in either House, the Governor shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancy.

Sec. 13. A majority of all the members elected to each House shall constitute a quorum to transact business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members, in such manner and under such penalties as each House may prescribe.

Sec. 14. Each House shall keep a journal of its own proceedings, which shall be published, and the yeas and nays of the members of either House on any question shall, at the desire of any three members present, be entered on the journal.

Sec. 15. The doors of each House shall be kept open during its session, except the Senate while sitting in executive session, and neither shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any other place than that in which they may be holding their sessions.

Sec. 16. Any bill may originate in either House of the Legislature, and all bills passed by one may be amended in the other.

Sec. 17. Each law enacted by the Legislature shall embrace but one subject, and matter properly connected therewith, which subject shall be briefly expressed in the title; and no law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title only; but, in such case, the Act as revised, or section as amended, shall be re-enacted and published at length.

Sec. 18. Every bill shall be read by sections, on three several days, in each House, unless in case of emergency, two-thirds of the House, where such bill may be pending, shall deem it expedient to dispense with this rule; but the reading of a bill by sections, on its final passage, shall in no case be dispensed with, and the vote on the final passage of every bill or joint resolution, shall be taken by yeas and nays, to be entered on the journals of each House; and a majority of all the members elected to each House shall be necessary to pass every bill or joint resolution, and all bills or joint resolutions so passed, shall be signed by the presiding officers of the respective Houses, and by the Secretary of the Senate and Clerk of the Assembly.

Sec. 19. No money shall be drawn from the Treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of the public money shall be attached to and published with the laws at every regular session of the Legislature.

Sec. 20. The Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say:

Regulating the jurisdiction and duties of Justices of the Peace and Constables; For the punishing of crimes and misdemeanors;

Regulating the practice of Courts of Justice;

Providing for changing the venue in civil and criminal cases;

Granting divorces;

Changing the names of persons;

Providing for opening and conducting elections of State, county or township officers, and designating the places of voting; Providing for the sale of real estate belonging to minors or other persons laboring under legal disabilities.

Sec. 21. In all cases enumerated in the preceding section, and in all other cases where a general law can be made applicable, all laws shall be general, and of uniform operation throughout the State.

Sec. 22. Provision may be made by general law for bringing suit against the State as to all liabilities originating, either before or after the adoption of this Constitution.

Sec. 23. The enacting clause of every law shall be as follows: "The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows," and no law shall be enacted except by bill.

Sec. 24. No lottery shall be authorized by this State, nor the sale of lottery tickets be allowed.

Sec. 25. The Legislature shall establish a system of county and township government, throughout the State.

Sec. 26. The Legislature shall provide by law for the election of a Board of County Commissioners, in each county, and such County Commissioners shall jointly and individually perform such duties as may be prescribed by law.

Mining Litigation Ended.

At a special meeting of the Directors of the Foundry Mining Company, in San Francisco Tuesday, the entire Board resigned and the same gentlemen who constitute the Board of Directors of the North Commonwealth Mining Company, of Tuscarora, were elected in their places. P. C. Hyman was appointed President, and the former Secretary, J. Stadfeld, Jr., was retained. This change, of course, will settle the long and expensive litigation between the two companies.

Salmon Cannery.

The following from the Virginia Chronicle is probably a funny item: M. N. Davidson and George King, senior, have gone on a fishing trip to Pyramid Lake. Before going they mentioned confidently to J. Peter Smith that they were about to start a cannery on the shore of the lake for putting up land-locked salmon, and offered Mr. Smith an interest in the project. Mr. Smith has since been looking over the statistics to ascertain if there is any clause in them prohibiting the canning of land-locked salmon in August.

Zeep has told us the tale of a mule which, from overfeeding, galloped about and felt gay, saying to himself: "My father surely was a high-mettled racer and I am his own child in speed and spirit." Next day he was sick and weary; he then exclaimed: "I must have made a mistake; my father, after all, could have been only an ass." A man, after eating a good dinner, may feel extravagantly joyous; but next day (I don't mean you to infer he feels like an ass) he is surly and grim, his stomach and liver are disturbed, he is nervous, despondent and "out of sorts" generally. For indigestion, Biliousness and all derangements of the Stomach, Liver and Bowels, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is an unequalled remedy. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrupy sugar to ferment and derange the digestive process. It cleanses the system and cures pimples, blotches, eruptions and all Skin and Scalp Diseases. Scrofulous affections, as Fever-sore, Hip-joint Disease, Swellings and Tumors, Rip-joint Disease, and all other diseases, to its superior alternative properties.

The Fire Escape and the Vine.

"Very foolish to cling to me. Suppose an accident were to happen, where would you be? Torn, trampled, crushed under hurrying feet. Look at those sunflowers. They stand on their own stems, they do. Catch them sticking their saucy yellow heads between my bars; not much! I like independence, I do."

Thus spake the fire escape: "How hard hearted you are!" murmured the vine, singing a tendril lovingly above the upper railing.

"I was born so," replied the fire escape, grimly.

"And how cold!" continued the vine.

"My nature," growled the fire escape.

"But I love you," whispered the vine, "because you are so strong and so tall and such a help to me! When I was a little thing, and a stranger in this street, I looked up and saw you, great and dark, reaching almost to the sky. Ah! you looked so terrible, and, if you will pardon me, so ugly, that I was frightened at first, but then it was pleasant and restful to lean against your mighty frame. I quite gave myself up to it, and grew and grew, and budded and blossomed, till, as you know, the passers-by stop in amazement, saying, 'How beautiful that fire escape looks!'"

"Still ours is not a suitable union," persisted the fire escape. "I have a great mission to perform; I am here to save human life. You should have cast your lot in with some nice country cottage—not a coarse old tenement like me."

"Love goeth whither it is sent," sighed the vine meekly, and clung closer.

That night a woman with a babe at her breast dropped a lighted lamp. Flames darted here, there, everywhere, hungrily, glowingly. People madly flung their poor possessions from the windows. Engines rattled through the streets. Brave men climbed the sturdy fire escape, and carried children and women down its iron sides. Splendid streams of water played upon the blazing building. Morning dawned, pale and blue. The fire escape stood tall and dark, but the poor, pretty little vine lay dead at its feet, a victim of misplaced affection.

French Ideas of Rewarding Merit.

I should like to answer a question which I am constantly being asked: "How is it that the French, who are such admirers of pluck, adventure, the advancement of science, etc., not only do not honorize Stanley, but even give him the cold shoulder?" Far be it from me to reply that the French do not recognize the great feats of this great explorer; but they are a sentimental people, and when they see a man of this kind make, financially, a good thing out of his exploits they consider that he has his reward, and they cannot be made to see where the bands of music and hat waving come in. If Cincinnatus had been a Frenchman he would be a saint in the eyes of the French; but a Wolsey in enjoyment of gold and title would never be considered to need niche or pedestal in addition.

If M. Pasteur had charged a guinea every time he inoculated a patient nobody would have objected; nay, it would have been thought quite right and natural; but he would not have been regarded as entitled to hero worship. It is because M. Pasteur is known never to have taken a cent for himself from his patients that he is idolized by his countrymen. They admire in him a benefactor of the human race, and it flatters their pride to claim him as a product of French soil. Call this sentimentality if you will, I am neither commending nor condemning it, but stating the plain fact.—Max O'Rell in Washington Star.

The Value of a Silver Dollar.

Senator Jones, of Nevada, was twitted by Senator McPherson, of New Jersey, in the course of his silver speech with the fact that the silver dollars were only worth seventy-two cents. Of course it "reminded him of a little story."

"I recollect," said he, "talking on this subject once with some senators in the cloak room. During the conversation one of the senate pages brought me a telegram, on which he said the telegraph messenger had told him there were fifty cents due. I gave the page a silver dollar and said to him:

"I have been informed by some very respectable and intellectual gentlemen in here, some of them candidates for the presidency even, that this dollar is worth only seventy-five cents. I do not want to cheat a little boy. Take this out, and if the boy thinks it is worth only seventy-five cents he can send me back twenty-five cents, and if he thinks it is worth a dollar he can send me back fifty cents. I will leave it to him."

The page brought back fifty cents and said the telegraph boy told him he did not know what those old 'duffers' in there might say, but it was as good a dollar as he wanted and was very hard to get.—Cor. New York Tribune.

Burglars Caught by Electricity. Electric burglar catching has received an impetus in Paris at the hands of an enterprising wine merchant in the Rue Secretan, who has just landed his fifth man in the following way: There is no concierge for his premises, and he has had his store connected with the room occupied by his waiters by means of an electric wire. When the burglar enters the bell in the waiters' room rings and the intruder is quietly nabbed. The wine merchant's experiment has been so successful that several other traders in the vicinity have adopted his modus operandi, and are now yearning for a real live "midnight-raider" to come their way.—Exchange.

Velocity of the Fly.

A physiologist in France has been observing the work of flies in flying, and somehow has arrived at the conclusion that the wings of a fly make about 800 beats per second, and that such a fly can travel at the rate of a kilometer per minute. This is equal to the velocity of an express train. Assuming this to be so, then a fly could compass the earth's circumference in twenty-eight days.—Exchange.

Will the JOURNAL be pardoned for venturing the original remark that the political pot is beginning to simmer?

It is believed at Tuscarora that an important ore development is on the eve of materialization in the Belle Isle.

There was considerable amount of rumbling overhead yesterday afternoon, but not a drop of rain fell in Reno.

Sam Davis came down from Carson last night on his way to Lake Tahoe where his wife has been stopping for the last week.

Mrs. R. E. Turner, of Oakland, who has been a guest in the family of Judge Haydon for several weeks left for home on last night's train.

The case of J. P. Foulks vs. S. A. Hamlin was on trial in the District Court yesterday. It is a suit for waste and damage on a contract.

Miss Aggie Hall left yesterday morning for a visit to her father and mother at Eureka. She was accompanied by her little nephew, Cleve Baker.

George F. Bliss left yesterday morning for Eureka. He will wind up his business there in a few weeks and return to Reno, to go into the employ of the water company here.

It is hardly credible that more money is expended on the Pacific Coast for baking powder than for flour, and yet a wholesale groceryman assures a JOURNAL reporter that such is the fact.

George Russell, says the Elko Independent, returned from Battle Mountain last night. He says they lost about twenty head of Hereford cattle supposed to be by poison, but since removing them from the bottom lands none have died.

John Diehl, a juror in the Ah Jew Chinese murder case at Winnemucca, was taken seriously ill last Thursday and had to be taken to his home. This necessitated the discharge of the jury although the prosecution had introduced all of its evidence.

A couple of drunken men were steered to the cooler yesterday afternoon for fighting and disturbing the peace on Sierra street. They could not give their names, being too full for a terrace. A dose of Dr. Young's peppy cordial will probably sober them up to-day.

Charles Hambarsh, who had just served a term for disturbing the peace, was arrested again yesterday for the same offense. He celebrated his restoration to liberty by getting gloriously drunk and is now occupying his old quarters at Sheriff Flinn's hostelry across the river.

The following appointments have been made during the week by Governor Stevenson: Charles S. Bundy, Commissioner of Deeds, to reside at Washington, D. C.; C. D. Van Doser, Notary Public, to reside at Reno, Washoe county; F. M. Huffaker, Notary Public, to reside at Virginia City.

Major J. H. Simpson, commercial agent for Levy & Co.'s San Francisco grocery house, was in town yesterday. He will leave for Sacramento today to attend the Republican State Convention which meets there next Tuesday. He is a delegate from San Francisco, and is for Morrow for Governor.

All kinds of canned fruits are higher than they have been for years. Canned peaches have risen within the last few weeks from $1.60 to $2.75 per dozen in San Francisco, and other fruits in proportion. The rise is on account of the failure of the fruit crops in the East which is drawing on California for its supplies.

Mrs. Romero's Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Annie Stewart Romero, daughter of Senator Stewart, took place at San Francisco yesterday morning from Trinity Church. The funeral services were read by the Rector, Rev. J. Sanders Reed. The floral offerings were many and handsome. They consisted of sheaves of wheat, wreaths, pillows, crosses and baskets worked in the choicest of flowers. The pall bearers were W. D. English, G. B. Heazleton, Col. H. I. Thornton, W. F. Merrin, Judge Clark, William Dargie, Mr. Taylor and Mr. Jewett.

DEATH OF J. R. GARCIA.

After a Three Months' Illness He Died at Truckee Yesterday Morning.

Yesterday's No. 3 train brought to Reno the sad news of the death of J. R. Garcia, the well known and popular locomotive engineer, who died at Truckee, after a three months' illness, early yesterday morning. There was no man on the road who was better known or more highly esteemed than the deceased, and the tidings of his death will cause many a sorrowful heart-throb for one whose exemplary life, uniform courtesy and kindly and generous disposition had won for him the warmest friendship of all who had known him in life. He had been on this Division for sixteen years and was a general favorite, especially among his fellow employees and associates on the road. He possessed the entire confidence of his employers who invariably entrusted him with duties requiring the greatest skill, caution, fortitude and judgment in his branch of the railroad service. The seeds of his fatal illness were doubtless implanted last Winter when he was for weeks contending with the elements and suffering the severest hardships and continuous exposure during the period of the protracted blockade. When his sickness came upon him he was taken to Sacramento for medical treatment and afterwards to some noted mineral springs in California, but neither medical science nor curative waters could loosen the grasp which the grim spectre held upon him, and he was taken to his mountain home to await the final summons. He was a prominent member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and also of Summit Lodge, K. of P., at Truckee, and of Reno Division No. 2, Uniform Rank, of the same Order. He was also a member of the Endowment Bank in Reno, in which he was insured for $3,000. He leaves a wife and three children to mourn the loss of a kind and exemplary husband and an affectionate and indulgent father. Members of the Reno Division will go to Truckee to attend the funeral which takes place at 3 P. M. today.

Methodist Conference.

The annual conference of the Methodist Church met at Virginia City on Thursday. The following are the first day's proceedings:

"In the absence of Bishop J. H. Vincent, President, who has been detained en route, Rev. E. W. Van Deventer, D. D., Superintendent of the Mission, opened the conference this morning with devotional exercises, consisting of singing 'All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name'; prayer followed by Revs. E. Clark, G. B. Hinkle, H. Winsor and E. McEvers and reading of scripture by Rev. C. L. Logan. The roll was called by the Secretary and the following members answered to their names: 'Revs. E. W. Van Deventer, D. D., G. W. De La Matyr, G. B. Hinkle, E. McEvers, C. E. Gardner, C. L. Logan, J. A. Bready, James H. N. Williams, James Whitaker, T. Leak, H. Winsor, J. P. Winsor, J. Johns, E. Clark, W. Ackroyd, T. P. Bradshaw, J. Johnson, H. Pearce, B. F. Van Deventer, J. R. Hammond.

After the re-election of Revs. E. McEvers Secretary and James H. N. Williams Recording Secretary, Disciplinary Committees were read and the necessary changes made. Conference adjourned to meet at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon."

A Casino Problem.

RENO, August 9, 1890.

EDITOR JOURNAL: Please decide the following disputed point:

A and B are playing casino. At the close of the last deal A has eight and B two to go. A holds cards, spades, big and little casino and one ace. B holds three aces. Which wins the game? BARTON.

The decision should have been submitted to the Free Lance, which is, we believe, the recognized local authority upon sporting matters. As the editor of that paper, however, is absent attending the Methodist Conference, the JOURNAL will give its opinion, but declines, from conscientious motives, to render a decision which might determine the result of a gambling bet.

The count is made in the following order: Cards, spades, big and little casino and aces. A counts seven upon the four first named, leaving him one to go, and still has an ace which, if allowed to count, would put him out. B has two to go, and holds three aces, which would put him more than out. The JOURNAL knows nothing in Hoyle, the common law, or the Constitution or Statutes of Nevada which would give in casino any one ace precedence over either of the other of three. Our opinion is that it is a draw game—either that or another deal must be made and the player corraling the most cards wins the game.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-sw-ly

Ben Fitch says that Elko county will demand the nomination of ex-Assemblyman Bob Hamill for Secretary of State.

Humboldt Happenings.

Silver State, August 7.

The Paradise Valley Company's team arrived yesterday with 37,000 pounds of concentrates, for shipment to Colorado. Eighteen and a half tons is a pretty fair load, but Jake Berrier engineered it through all right.

H. M. Wheeler, just over from Sanborn, reports the mill shut down. It has been demonstrated that the ore must be roasted to be profitably worked and the company will doubtless build a furnace. The employees of the company were all paid off and it is not probable that the mill will be started again until a roasting furnace is built.

The particulars of the drowning of Philip Mick are as follows as near as can be ascertained. He was at work at the Oly Brewery and with Crisley Deihl went into the river. He could not swim and in wading in the water went beyond his depth. Two Indians, who were on the bank, saw him disappear and shouted, but made no attempt to save him. The Deihl boy swam over the place where Mick disappeared and says the latter caught hold of one of his legs and clung to it for fifteen or twenty feet and then let go. D. R. George and "Corduroy" dragged the river and found the body nearly opposite Pat Bell's place in about twelve feet of water. Coroner Walker did not consider it necessary to hold an inquest on the body as there was no question as to the cause of death.

Kindergarten Change.

I wish to announce the opening of a Kindergarten in connection with Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, arrangements having been made by the Principal with Mrs. Mills, who, it will be remembered, designed opening such a school in Reno in September. All persons who have promised to place their children under her care will please notice the change of location. Satisfactory arrangements will be made to convey the children to and from the school. JULIA McGUIRE, Principal.

Big Timothy Grass.

Jimmy Carroll brought in yesterday from his ranch some stalks of timothy, the heads of which averaged ten inches in length. The ranch is about a mile and a half west of town, and in the timothy field there are heads which will measure six and seven inches. The specimens which were brought in, in size, looked more like cat-o-nine-tails than hay grass.

Be Sure

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. Hood's Sarsaparilla is a peculiar medicine, possessing, by virtue of its peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation, curative power superior to any other article. A Boston lady who knew what she wanted, and whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

To Get

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me to buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I knew what Hood's Sarsaparilla was. I had taken it, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other."

Hood's

When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable, suffering a great deal with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked, and had for some time, like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." Mrs. ELLA A. GORF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.
